Indians Land on Marquard for Three Runs Early in Game; Take First of Series by Score of 3 to 1

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN, Oct. 5.—Brooklyn took their batting practice first, Mohart, Miljus and Pfeiffer serving up the ball for the home folks. Marquard and Smith, Robinson's two left handers, and Grimes, Brooklyn's star spit baller, took part in the batting practice.

While went to the mound when the Cleveland Indians took their batting workout. Bagby and Coveleskie took part in the practice.

There was the inevitable picture of the rival managers—Robinson and Speaker—shaking hands, while the Johnston brothers, "Doc" of the Indians, and "Jimmy" of the Dodgers, had a little family picture of their own, the first probably since a traveling photographer got them together on a tin-type years ago in Tennessee.

The first real cheer of the game came when Jack Graney hit the ball over the wall in batting practice. Then someone presented Tris Speaker with a moral piece.

Shortly before 1:30 a police band, followed by a platoon of Brooklyn "finest" and a contingent of fire fighters, tramped on the field in a few minutes before the game.

This slender column served as an official escort for Mayor Hylan to whom had been given the honor of tossing out the first ball.

The batteries for the day were announced as follows: Coveleskie and O'Neill for Cleveland; Marquard and Krueger for Brooklyn.

Twenty-five thousand fans were packed in the field when the game was called, and hundreds who stood in line for tickets for hours were turned away. The managers of both teams expressed the outcome of the games.

Many changes were made in the usual batting order. For Cleveland, Evans went into left field instead of Jamieson; Burns was playing first base and batting fourth; Wood is playing right field and batting sixth. For Brooklyn, Krueger is catching instead of Miller.

FIRST INNING
CLEVELAND—Evans up. Evans out. Olson to Koney. Wamby up; Wamby bunted the ball, but the ball rolled foul. Wamby flew out to Wheat, who had to come in fast to make the catch. Speaker up. Speaker got a hand when he came to bat. Speaker fanned and the crowd gave Marquard a big cheer. No runs, no hits.

BROOKLYN—Olson up. Olson flew to Wood, hitting the first ball pitched. Johnston up. Johnston struck out. Coveleskie's spit ball being too much for him. Griffith up. Sewell threw out Griffith at first. No runs, no hits.

SECOND INNING
CLEVELAND—Burns sent a high fly, which fell behind Koney, who picked up the ball and threw it into left field. Olson threw out Gardner at first. Wood walked. Marquard temporarily lost control. Sewell up. The man who took Chapman's place got a cheer. Marquard tried to catch Wood off first. Sewell singled into right field. Wood going to third. Mammaux now warming up for Brooklyn. Coveleskie up. Coveleskie grounded out to Koney and Sewell attempted to run home, but was run out, the play being, Koney to Krueger to Johnston. Two runs, three hits, one error.

BROOKLYN—Wheat fled to Speaker, who made a wonderful catch of Wheat's seemingly safe hit. Myers fled to Wood, who picked the ball off the wall. Koney out. Sewell to Burns. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING.
CLEVELAND—Evans walked on four pitched balls. Wamby sacrificed. Johnston to Koney. Evans taking second. Speaker fled to Wheat. Burns up. Johnston took Burns' grounder and Evans was run down between second and third. Johnston to Kilduff. No runs, no hits.

BROOKLYN—Sewell threw out Kilduff at first. It was a close play at the bag. Krueger was out. Gardner to Burns. Gardner threw out Marquard at first. No runs, no hits.

FOURTH INNING
CLEVELAND—Kilduff tossed out Gardner at first. Wood hit a long drive into center field for two bases. The ball hit the bleacher fence on the bounce. Had it struck six inches higher it would have been a home run. Sewell fled to Myers. Wood held second. Wood scored on O'Neill's two-base hit. O'Neill's second two-base hit in the game. Kilduff threw out Coveleskie at first. One run, two hits.

BROOKLYN—Olson got a single over second, the first hit for Brooklyn in the game. Johnston forced Olson, Wamby to Sewell. Griffith singled into center, Johnston going to second. Wheat fled to Evans, who knocked Speaker down in making the catch. Mayers fled out to Wood. No runs, two hits.

CLEVELAND—Evans fled to Wheat. Wamby struck out. Speaker fled out to Griffith, who leaped up against the wall and speared the ball with his gloved hand. No runs, no hits.

BROOKLYN—Koney fled to Speaker. Kilduff fled to Wood. Gardner tossed out Krueger at first. No runs, no hits.

SIXTH INNING
CLEVELAND—Burns was a strike-out victim. Gardner fled to Wheat. Wood struck out. No runs, no hits.

BROOKLYN—Lamar batting for Marquard. Lamar lined out to Sewell. Olson singled into center, his second. Johnston threw out Griffith, but Coveleskie threw him out at first. Coveleskie threw out Griffith at first. No runs, one hit.

SEVENTH INNING

BROOKLYN—Wheat crashed a hit into right field for two bases. Sewell threw out Myers at first. Wheat going to third. The Cleveland infield played back. Wheat scored while Burns was throwing out Koney at Mammaux, Brooklyn pitcher, who went into today's game in the beginning of the seventh, to relieve Marquard, struck out the three batters facing him, they being Sewell, O'Neill and Coveleskie, the first two being the heavy hitters of the game previous to Mammaux's entrance the mound.

BROOKLYN USES UP THREE PITCHERS IN A VAIN ATTEMPT

The Cleveland Indians, champions of the American League, toppled over the Brooklyn Dodgers by a score of 3 to 1 in the first game of the world series.

The National League champions were helpless before the mystifying slants of the big spit ball pitcher, Coveleskie. He was given strong support by the Cleveland team, especially Speaker, who ranged far and near, robbing the hapless Brooklyn of scoring hits. O'Neill starred at the bat with two doubles.

The official attendance was 23,894.

HARRY LUNTE was born in St. Louis, Mo., in 1894. He was purchased from Mobile in 1917 but was injured before he could report and then went into war service, joining the Indians this spring. He hit .195 last year.

TRISTRAM E. (TRIS) SPEAKER was born in Hubbard City, Tex., April 4, 1888. He started playing with Cleburne in the North Texas League in 1906. The Red Sox bought him from Little Rock in 1908. He was traded to Cleveland in 1916. Thomas, Jones and a reported cash consideration of $35,000. From 1909 until last year he never batted under .300. His 1919 average was .296. It was that year he succeeded Lee Fohl as manager. His best year was 1916 when he hit for .386, displacing Ty Cobb as the champion batter of the league.

JOHN G. (JACK) GRANEY was born in St. Thomas, Ont., in 1888. He started with Fulton in the Empire State League in 1906 as a pitcher. The Cubs drafted him the next year but he was released. Cleveland tried him out in 1908 and turned him back. While with Portland in 1909 his batting won him a place as an outfielder. He was bought by the Indians the next year. The next year he went to the Red Sox by way of the Kansas City American Association club. He pitched for them until 1917 when he was sold to Cleveland. His hard hitting there won him the job of utility outfielder and first baseman. He hit .269 in 1918 and .255 last year.

ELMER J. SMITH was born in Milan, O., in 1892. His first professional engagement was with the Kalamazoo club of the Southern Michigan League in 1909. He has been with Cleveland for three years. His batting average last year was .278.

CHARLES D. JAMIESON was born in Paterson, N. J., in 1892. He was bought from the Athletics last spring and hit .353 with Cleveland.

GEORGE BURNS was born in Niles, O., Jan. 31, 1893. He started playing with Burlington in the Central Association in 1913. THE MANAGERS

TRISTRAM E. (TRIS) SPEAKER started his managerial career by succeeding Lee Fohl when the latter voluntarily relinquished the reins of the Cleveland club last year. He is now the only playing manager in the American League. He was born in Hubbard City, Tex., April 4, 1888. After graduating from Fort Worth Poly, he began playing with Cleburne in the North Texas League in 1906. The Red Sox bought him from Little Rock in the Southern League in 1908. He played with them until he was traded to Cleveland for Thomas and Jones and $55,000 in 1916. He led the American League in batting that year with a percentage of .386. Speaker is rated as the greatest defensive outfielder of all time and several times had been adjudged the most valuable player in the league.

WILBERT ROBINSON, commonly known as "Uncle Robbie," is another member of the famous Baltimore Orioles who has graduated into a managerial job. In his day he was one of the best catchers in the game, and he owes much of his success in the big show to his ability to handle pitchers. He was carried that into two pennants—the other in 1916. Before taking charge of the Dodgers in 1914, Robinson was coach of the Giants' pitchers. "Uncle Robbie" guides his men instead of ruling them as managers of the McGraw type. His ability to handle pitchers is evidenced by his winning two pennants with teams admittedly starless outside the box.
